

1896 Championship Fight Lives In Oil Painting at San Antonio

Rev. George Apel, 74, pastor and builder of beautiful St. Monica's Church in Cameron and widely known Texas priest, died at the Cameron Hospital at 6 p. m. Friday, June 23, 1939. The aged priest had been in ill health for more than a year and during recent weeks had been a patient in the hospital. His condition, believed to be critical for some weeks prior to his death, became more serious on Thursday and while little hope was held for his recovery, his death came as a shock to thousands of friends in Cameron as well as to the members of his parish. First news of the death of the beloved pastor of St. Monica's was told to the city late Friday when the bells of St. Monica's began tolling.

Father Apel became widely known as a builder and pastor when he completed the present building at St. Monica's in January, 1938.

Out of his own funds, he constructed St. Anthony's school building, one of the better and more modern types of parish schools in Texas. When he died, his parish was free of debt and it was said here today that his estate valued at an appreciable figure, will in all probability be given in large part to St. Monica's.

Father Apel was born in Hausen, Germany on March 23, 1865. In his native land he was a student in the parish school near his home. At the age of 14 years he attended a mission seminary in Holland, remaining there until 1891. Like many of the Texas pioneers who trace their ancestry to the Fatherland, he turned his face toward America and in 1892 landed at Galveston.

Something novel in way of public entertainment is in store for the people of Cameron on Wednesday night, July 5, when a donkey baseball game will be played at Yoe High Athletic Field. This entertainment is being sponsored by the Cameron Athletic Council and the proceeds will go to the treasury for proper use of the department.

The baseball team together with the donkeys and all equipment for the entertainment will come from Dallas. The donkey baseball team, a novelty entertainment, has been widely patronized throughout Texas and members of the Athletic Council are advertising the attraction. We believe that a large crowd will fill the stadium for the game.

veston, a young man of small means to carve out his destiny in a new land far away from his native Germany. After remaining in Galveston for a short time he went to Cincinnati where he entered Mount St. Mary's of the West Seminary to complete his theological study. It was a proud day for the German immigrant, staunch in the Catholic faith, when he was ordained to the priesthood in Galveston on August 15, 1896 by Bishop Gallagher.

After the late Simon Spinnewebe had retired as pastor in Cameron, Rev. Apel was appointed to become priest for St. Monica's Parish in Cameron on July 19, 1924, and on Aug. 7, 1924, he reached Cameron to begin his work of extraordinary accomplishment which crowned a life of long and faithful service to the Catholic church.

Shortly after he became pastor of St. Monica's the church was destroyed by fire. It was a wood building of imposing architecture but inadequate for the fast growing parish. Father Apel began a campaign for the construction of a new building. We employed the firm J. C. Dielman & Company of San Antonio, architects, to draw plans for a new church. His faith, courage and business ability soon brought about the construction of the present beautiful St. Monica's church, one of the most imposing edifices in Texas. This building will stand for generations as a monument to the faith of a poor German boy who first set foot on American soil at Galveston to begin a life career that left its imprint large upon the hearts of millions of American Catholics and earned for him a large place in the affections of the people of Galveston.

Funeral services were held at 10 o'clock Monday morning at St. Mary's Church. Pontifical Requiem High Mass was sung by Right Rev. C. E. Byrne, Bishop of Galveston. Fifty priests of the Galveston diocese including Bishop Byrne and monsignori were present for the ceremonies.

championship fight between Bob Fitzsimmons and Peter Maher, the Irish Champion, both contenders for the crown left defaulted by James J. Corbet through the latter's inability to gain legal sanction for its defense. With a wave of reform legislation sweeping the country, the match had been prohibited in the States and, even in Mexico, but of President Diaz' respect for Texas and United States Law.

The situation presented just tough of the aspect of the "impossible" for the wily Roy Bean to step in from his West Texas Monarchy and wire the contenders' managers:—"I am Law West of Pecos and guarantee protection." With public interest working up to the prospective scrap, the site was selected secretly at Langtry, Texas, home of the famed "Jersey Lilly" and "Law West of Pecos," but stipulated publicly as "a place near El Paso."

Thirty-six hours before the time scheduled for the bout, three companies of Texas Rangers rode into El Paso with the announcement that there would be no fight, and several companies of Mexican soldiers massed in Juarez, across the border to prevent its being held there. Deputy Sheriffs patrolled the border between Texas and New Mexico while a company of militia assembled in the eastern corner of Arizona to guard that State against the fight invasion.

Things looked black for the promoters indeed until Judge Bean's telegram arrived. Suddenly the air was full of mysterious movements, with the secret center of activity falling at or near the "Jersey Lilly" in Langtry, Texas. On the morning of February 21, 1896, three special trains arrived at Langtry bearing the contestants, their promoters and the public. Plans had been conducted in such secrecy that state officials were caught unawares. When the governor, at the last minute, discovered the plans, the best he could do was dispatch two Rangers from San Antonio who arrived on the fight train to put a stop to it.

Much to their amazement, they found that the clever Roy Bean had constructed the prize ring on the Mexican side of a sand bank in the Rio Grande with a roughly constructed pontoon bridge flung across a chain of empty beer barrels as its approach. Husky Mexicans were carrying cases of Pearl Beer across the bridge to the thirsty multitude assembled in anticipation of the great occasion. Pearl Beer was bringing a dollar a bottle, spot cash on the barrelhead, a fifty-cent increase over the price frequently charged by the enterprising Bean.

As the two Rangers, shown in the foreground of the picture, served notice on Judge Bean, the human embodiment of the "Law West of Pecos," retorted calmly, "If you gents like a good scrap, stick around," pointing to the ring, just outside their jurisdiction, where the event was about to take place.

A few cowhands looked on from the cliffs on the Mexican side of the Rio Grande, too remote a spot from Diaz' soldiers to reach without a two or three days march.

Bean moved about with confident mien, taking full advantage of the situation which boomed the sales of the Jersey Lilly beyond all ordinary proportions, until the appointed time had arrived for the bout. Then he bellowed, "Follow me, gents; by gobs, the fight of the century's about to commence" . . . and strode down the gentle slope and across the bridge as one who appreciates his position as the center of attraction.

The fight was held. Maher was knocked out in exactly one minute and thirty-five seconds. Fitzsimmons became the undisputed World's Champion, and Judge Bean closed court for the day, out of respect for the liberal patronage given the "Jersey Lilly."

Thus, artist Harry Anthony DeYoung has caught, for the San Antonio Breweing Association, one of the highlights of Judge Roy Bean's speckled career, an event upon which he always looked back as one of the brightest and greatest of his exotic achievements.

Mrs. Edgar Campbell served as hostess at a meeting of the Lilac Home Demonstration Club, Thursday afternoon, June 1, and Miss Dorothy Porter, Agent, gave a very interesting disucssion on diseases common to poultry and vaccination, warning against vaccinating a whole flock at one times, as diseases resulting from vaccination might prove fatal to unvaccinated fowls.

Bryant Station Home Dem. Club Mrs. Edward Senkel, Sponsor Rogers, Route:

"Very attractive lamp shades can be made at home at very little cost," Miss Nell Blackstock told the Bryant Station Home Demonstration Club which met June 8, at the home of Mrs. Clarence Rainey.

Parchment shades are good everywhere. Parchment paper and wire frames of various sizes and shapes can be bought. Imitation parchment paper can be made of brown wrapping. Crumple the paper then press it smooth and oil with boiled linseed oil. These shades can be decorated with various pictures. Decorating is much easier before putting shade on wire frame. Paper shades should be painted inside. This gives a pleasant glow to a shade when lighted. Miss Blackstock stated that shades could be made of silk for the bedroom, or in tailored way for other rooms.

The president of the club Mrs. G. H. Beckhusen, presided at the business meeting at which time the club voted to send Mrs. Clarence Rainey to Short Course.

Refreshments were served to 9 members and 4 visitors: Marie Lively, Marie Rainey, Mrs. E. T. Colbert and Mrs. L. H. Obermiller.

The next meeting will be June 29, with Miss Nell Blackstock as hostess. All interested people are invited.

Miss Mary Frances Blaylock, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. L. L. Blaylock will become the bride of Bill Newton, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. O. Newton of Cameron in a twilight garden ceremony at the Blaylock home Sunday evening at 7:30. Close friends of the families are being invited for the ceremony. Mr. Newton is a Wichita Falls banker and Miss Blaylock is now located in Austin.

Miss Ethel Skelton, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lon Skelton of Bryan, and niece of Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Skelton of this city, with whom she has made her home for several years, left Wednesday, June 21, for New Orleans, where she embarked Saturday, the 24th, for Barranquilla, Columbia, South America. From Barranquilla she will go by air-plane to Cucuta, where on July 5, she will wed J. A. Bialkowski, who was reared at Wichita Falls. For the happy event the bride will be attired in powder blue crepe with white accessories and will carry a bouquet of white orchids. Miss Skelton has been a popular faculty member of Yoe High School, where she has taught Latin for the past several years. She is a graduate of Stephen F. Austin School of Bryan and of the University of Texas. Mr. Bialkowski was educated at the Wichita Falls High School and the University of Texas. Prior to January of this year, when he went to Cucuta, Columbia, as construction engineer for the Texas Company, he had been employed in Austin, where this romance was engendered last summer. Miss Margaret Bloebaum entertained recently for Miss Skelton in Austin with a bridge party. Among the guests were members of the Cameron School Faculty now in Austin. Miss Skelton was not only a valuable member of Yoe High Faculty, but was also a popular member of the younger set in Cameron. She was a member of the Symphony Club, Comus Club, and YWA, and the good wishes of her many friends follow her to her new home in Cucuta, Columbia.

Miss Estelle Clarke, who will be married to Mott Terry here on Friday, July 6, was the honor guest at a shower given in the home of Mrs. Frank Barrett of Yarrellton. For this occasion Miss Clarke was attractively dressed in a natural color frock and wore a corsage of sweet peas. A delightful program of entertainment was observed under the direction of the hostess. Refreshments consisting of tuna fish salad, stuffed olives, Ritz and limeade were served to the almost fifty guests who assembled from Burlington, Cameron, South Elm, North Elm, Buckholts and Mrs. D. M. McCall and Miss Lita McCall of Waco.

Mrs. A. N. Weems, Mrs. Audell Horstmann and Mrs. Grady Little visited Mrs. A. A. Weems of Belmena Tuesday.

The beautiful home of Mr. and Mrs. Oxsheer M. Smith was the setting for the gathering of many friends when they entertained from 8 to 10 o'clock Tuesday evening, June 27, celebrating their Silver Wedding Anniversary. The lawn of the home was electrically lighted where the hosts stood in receiving line and with the sister of groom, Miss Aetna Smith, who was maid of honor at the wedding, and with them H. F. Smith, Jr., who served his brother as best man at their wedding in Gardiner, Maine, June 14, 1914, that was followed with a reception immediately after the wedding ceremony in the church. Mrs. Smith wore her bridal gown of white bridal satin and her maid of honor wore the same costume she wore at the original wedding and greeted guests as they arrived on the lawn at the Smith home. A handsome lace laid table was artistically trimmed with silver leaves; where a floral representation of an engagement ring with diamond setting featured Stephenotis flowers as the stone, in a silver band and rested amid a silver bowl of flowers of Calla Lillies and white carnations in a silver bowl that was the gift of the groom to the bride for this occasion. In the center of the table rested a silver heart with silver candles. The silver colored foliage on the table added beauty. A large three tier wedding cake was at the other end, which was topped with silver wedding bells. Mrs. Rush A. Thomas, a sister of the groom, presided and cut the cake with a silver knife sent to the honored guests by the "little flower girl" at their wedding in Maine. Cake was passed with ice cream moulded in bride and groom design, with mints. Four young girls Miss Viola Thomas, niece of the groom and Misses Catherine Monroe, Carolyn Cheeves and Margaret Martin, in dainty evening frocks, presided at the punch bowl that rested on a table prettily decorated with silver foliage and flowers. A stringed orchestra stationed in the sun parlor furnished music for the occasion; a beautiful Harvest Moon shed its rays over the scene where nearly three hundred guests called to express many good wishes for the honorees, coming from Cameron, Dallas, Houston, San Antonio, Waco, Austin, Temple and other near by towns. Mr. Smith is the grand son of the late W. W. Oxsheer who was an early pioneer citizen of Milam county, coming to Texas in 1837 and settled in Milam county and made his home here. He reared a large family of children who have figured in county and state history. The father of the honored guest, owing to not being well, was not present, but he was the founder of the Citizens National Bank in Cameron many years ago, and has retired from active service, and the son is now president of the bank and known in banking circles all over, and out of the state. Mr. Smith has been the president of the bank for many years, and has friends all over the state who join in with their many friends in Cameron, wishing for them many happy returns of the occasion. His aged mother was present and a picture was made of them and his mother. Among the many out of town guests present were Mrs. Goodhue Smith and son Goodhue Smith of Waco. The son is employed here at the bank during the summer term, and will attend a college in New Mexico this fall.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE SERVICES

"God" is the subject of the Lesson-Sermon which will be read in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, on Sunday, July 2.

The Golden Text is: "Unto the King eternal, immortal, invisible, the only wise God, be honour and glory for ever and ever" (I Timothy 1:17.)

Among the citations which comprise the Lesson-Sermon is the following from the Bible: "And they shall teach no more every man his neighbor, and every man his brother, saying, Know the Lord: for they shall all know me, from the least of them unto the greatest of them, saith the Lord." (Jeremiah 31:34.)

The Lesson-Sermon also includes the following passage from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy: "As the mythology of pagan Rome has yielded to a more spiritual idea of Deity, so will our material theories yield to spiritual ideas, until the finite gives place to the infinite, sickness to health, sin to holiness, and God's kingdom comes 'in earth, as it is in heaven.'" (page 339.)

Mr. and Mrs. Willie Fulton were week end guests of their parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. N. Weems.

Homer Chambers who is employed with the Lily Ice Cream Company of Bryan spent the week end with his mother, Mrs. M. A. Chambers.

Roemer of Waco and Henry Gottschalk, Cameron; deacons of honor to the bishop, the Revs. Theodore Drees of Taylor and I. J. Szymanski of Bremond. Rev. John S. Murphy of Galveston delivered the eulogy.

The body was buried in the church yard after the custom of centuries. The grave is located near the corner stone of the church and in time a massive slab will be placed. This custom of burial is widely practiced throughout the Catholic world. Visitors to the historic church in Juarez, Mexico, have noted the number of flat stone graves in the yard where sleep the Priests who have Fathered the parish for centuries.

Rev. Apel completed St. Monica's new church in Cameron in 1928. He later built St. Anthony's modern school. He came to Cameron from Plantersville in 1926. The old church was destroyed by fire in late 1927.

THE RENT YOU ARE PAYING!

Why pay for a home you'll never own? That's what you're actually doing as long as you pay rent. The wise thing to do is to apply these monthly payments on a home of your own. You can do just that under the FHA plan: you merely make a down payment and clear the balance in monthly payments.

Prompt Help For A Listless Child

Scolding won't help a boy or girl who is listless, dull or cross from constipation. But, here's something that will!
If sluggish bowels have your child headachy, bilious, upset, give him a little Syrup of Black-Draught tonight. Like the original famed BLACK-DRAUGHT, its principal ingredient is an intestinal tonic-laxative. Helps impart tone to the bowel muscles.
Children like the taste of Syrup of Black-Draught. It is an all vegetable product. When simple directions are followed, its action is gentle, but prompt and complete. Comes in two sizes: 50c and 25c.

Doctor Combats Disease Bug

Medical science was doing everything possible today to stop the possible spread of sleeping sickness in Milam county.
One case, the victim a boy, is under treatment by Dr. W. R. Newton, Jr., widely known physician and County Health Officer.
Dr. Newton said this morning it is the second such case found in the county, one being in the western edge in 1938 and the present in the eastern. Dr. Newton discovered both cases.
The vector or carrier, resembles a type of well known blister bug and appears to be an exact match of the Triatoma megista found in South America. The bug was described as a carrier of the germ.
State Health authorities were called in and were at first skeptical, but the bug was found in considerable numbers on the farm where the boy is being treated.
Dr. Newton said every effort is being made to find the source from which the germ originates here.
Dr. Newton said the bug is the type especially to prey on human beings. It extracts blood much the same as a mosquito. A certain type of sleeping sickness not contagious is considered incurable as the death rate is almost total.

Dr. Newton said that the disease discovered here might be a type yet unreported and was inclined to believe it not totally fatal. However, he would advance no definite information until he has concluded his studies.
The danger was not minimized by the Health Officer who said that the territory would be searched and rodents, cows and other animals would be tested.
Rapid development of communication between the continents may account for the presence of the bug.
The most deadly type of sleeping sickness or Negro Lethargy occurs on the west coast of Africa and is caused by the tsetse fly. The victims sleep until they sink into a stupor from which they cannot be roused and die from starvation.
Carter Brogdon, Bobby Batte, Billy Batte Bryan and Noris Clark enjoyed a swimming party at Belton Friday night and later had supper at the Moss Rose in Temple.

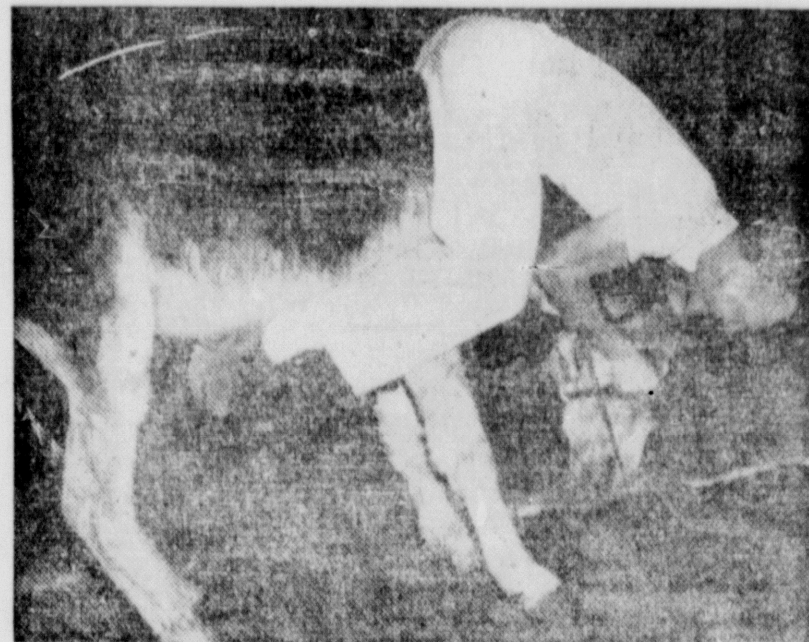

MENTAL TREATMENT IMPOSED IN COUNTY COURT HERE

Jesse Coley must remain in jail until a place is found for him in a state institution for the mentally ill.
A jury in county court here Friday rendered a verdict the result of which commits him to an institution for treatment. He was arrested last week after he had driven his son from his farm work and attempted to run off his family. The family reside in the North Elm community.

Mr. and Mrs. Dan Gunn visited in the homes of their children Mr. and Mrs. Emory Gunn and Mr. and Mrs. Odell Jamison, Sunday.

Mrs. E. E. Ward of Ben Arnold was a visitor here this morning. She brought her baby daughter to the doctor.
